Mark Hake asked for a motion to approve the April 4, 2017, meeting minutes. The motion was moved by Mike Hestrin and seconded by Sean Thuilliez. Minutes were approved and stand as written.

3. SB 678/CCPIA UPDATE

Tari Dolstra provided an overview and update of the Community Supervision Oversight Unit statistics and evidence-based programs funded by the Community Corrections Performance Incentive Act (CCPIA), formerly known as SB 678. CCPIA was designed to ensure evidence-based practices were incorporated into probation departments' operations. The goals were to ultimately reduce the number of probationers sentenced to state prison and reduce recidivism. In 2011, the Community Corrections Performance Incentive Act essentially replaced SB 678 and added specific performance measures, required data driven decision making, and improved outcomes.

The metric used by the state to gauge probation departments' performance is the Probation Failure Rate. The formula has been modified several times since 2011. The most recent Probation Failure Rate/funding formula for 2017 was calculated as the total number of adult felony probationers sentenced to state prison from that county as a percentage of the county's average adult felony population for that year. The formula takes into account revocations resulting in State Prison only, and no longer takes into account PC 1170(h) sentences. Based on the current formula, the 2017 failure rate for Riverside County is 4.3%.

The initial funding of $2.8M was awarded in 2010 for the two-year grant period ending September 2012. The funds were used to implement new evidence-based programs and funded 15 new positions. To date, CCPIA funds a total of 52 positions. The estimated overall statewide allocation is $106M for FY 2018/19. It is estimated Riverside County's share may be $6.58M.

Historical Allocations to Riverside County:

- FY 2011/12 was $8.96M
- FY 2012/13 was $10.64M
- FY 2013/14 was $5.78M
- FY 2014/15 was $3.11M
- FY 2015/16 was $7.16M
- FY 2016/17 was $8.53M
- FY 2017/18 was $6.56M

In 2017, probation continued to focus on training new staff in their respective assignments. A vital component to probation supervision practices has been the incorporation of evidence-based training for staff, especially supervision officers. Evidence-based training classes provide a foundation for effective supervision, with the goal of successful community integration. Motivational Interviewing (MI) classes emphasize effective communication with clients/offenders. These classes teach staff to collaborate with and promote self-change within clients. Correctional Offender Management Profiling for Alternative Sanctions (COMPAS) is a validated risk/needs assessment tool. This class teaches staff how to utilize the software, which in turn helps probation officers to assess the appropriate supervision level for a case. Courage to Change (C2C) is a form of cognitive-behavioral treatment. Staff are trained to utilize this interactive journaling tool to help offenders re-evaluate their thought processes. These classes are offered in groups, or on an individual basis.

4. PRESLEY CENTER RESEARCH

Grover Trask, presented on the Presley Center of Crime and Justice Studies. The Presley Center was established at UCR in 1994 by the State Legislature and specifically sited at the Riverside campus. It was named after former State Senator Robert Presley, who was the Riverside County Undersheriff for 12 years. While their mission encompasses a broad criminal justice studies approach, the Presley Center Co-Directors have designated the current and future research projects to be collaboratively conducted by faculty, post-docs, and students in conjunction with regional criminal justice policy makers. To that end, their focus is on current and emerging criminal justice issues as evidenced by the 2011 Public Safety Realignment Act (AB109).

Their first project will examine the consequences of recent legislation and its impact on regional criminal justice systems. This includes assessing innovative community offender programs as well as developing a countywide mapping project that identifies all existing community based groups working with criminal justice agencies on rehabilitation and re-entry programs. In the future, depending on funding, they intend to develop and implement two county regional AB109 projects that statistically tracks and analyzes its positive, negative or neutral impact on crime rates in the region.

Mark Hake will provide contact information for CBO Community Connect as they have started a mapping of services for the County of Riverside. Tari Dolstra invited Grover Trask to attend the Riverside County Community Collaboration on Monday, April 16, 2018 from 9:30 – 11:30 am.

5. WPC METRICS

Judi Nightingale provided an update on Whole Person Care (WPC). WPC is a state funded program designed to identify newly released probationers needs and to provide them with services. According to national statistics, a large number of prisoners have AIDS/HIV, hepatitis B, tuberculosis, co-morbid behavioral and physical health conditions. Eight WPC Register Nurses (RN) will be stationed throughout the county in probation offices to screen probationers for the following: medical conditions (TB, Hep C, HIV, Hgb A1C, BP), substance abuse, homelessness, health insurance coverage, mental health needs, and any additional support services.

With WPC providing services to probationers, the goal is to reduce probation failures resulting in jail, by increasing probation success through better engagement of probationers.
